

Dodger catches Red in a corner, but lets him get away while saying that they can't be friends anymore.

Red goes back to the woman's house where she finds that he was injured in his escape. The woman decides that Red would be safer back where he belongs; in nature.

She takes Red to a reserve and after a heart-felt goodbye, she leaves. Red can either:

